Campus Leaders Schedule Meeting

Student leaders and the presidency of Brigham Young University will meet Tuesday, 5 to 6 p. m. in a traditional spring sounding board, 167 McKay Building.

All organizational heads are asked to attend the conference which will be the first of its kind this year because of special interferences

The purpose of the meeting is to offer university leaders an opportunity to become better acquainted and also to discuss major problems relating to university procedures with reference to student leadership.

Both incoming and outgoing leaders are invited to attend.

Record Replay Set For Friday By Musicians

Music recorded for the Hill Cumorah Pageant will be played back Friday at 7 p. m. in the Smith Fieldhouse for participants and anyone else who is interested.

Gates Composed

Dr. Crawford Gates composed the music for the pageant. It was recorded by the Utah Symphony Orchestra and the Brigham Young University A Cappella Choir and Men's and Women's Choruses.

Dr Harold I. Hansen first invited Dr. Gates to do the music for the pageant. This invitation was endorsed by President Stephen L Richards of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

The music was recorded on a five-track stereophonic sound track like the one used for Cinerama in California. The BYU performance will be on a single track due to the high cost of the five track equipment.

Groups Record

Work on the music was begun by Dr. Gates in 1954 and completed in March 1957., It was recorded between quarters by the symphony and the two choral groups in the Salt Lake Tabernacle with the tabernacle organ.

Professor Newel B Weight directed the A Cappella Choir and Professor Norman Gulbrandsen the Men's and Women's Choruses during their preparation of the choral work.

The Hill Cumorah Pageant is given August 1-3.

'Salute' Honors Students For High Achievements

Second Annual Salute to Academic Honors will be Wednesday from 4:30 to 6 p.m. in the reception area of the Smith Family Living Center.

Reception will honor BYU students who have achieved academic recognition by being on the honor roll or high honor roll during the past school year and faculty members who have gained outstanding recognition for academic achievements.

Through this annual academic event, the administration will accent academic purposes which are primary to the university and will express the congratulations and appreciation of the university to students who have gained high achievement, stated Wesley P. Lloyd, Dean of Students.

Deans, department chairmen and faculty members will act as hosts to the honored students Presidency members and their wives will form the receiving lines.

Invitations Mailed

Last Tuesday printed invitations were mailed to students eligible to attend. Students on the honor roll who have not received invitations due to a clerical error or change in address are urged to attend, according to Dean Lloyd.

Chamber of Commerce Efficiency Awards will be presented to two graduating seniors outstanding in their academic achievement and studentbody activities.

Valedictorian will be announced at the reception.

Honor students are asked to enter through the east door of SFLC and they will receive identification tages at the proper tables. They will then proceed to the foyer where they will be received by university officials.

Students will be given name cards of a special color designating their college Faculty members will also receive like colored name cards.

Faculty committee members on scholarships, fellowsbips and awards in charge of arrangements for Salute to Academic Honors are Professor Kenneth Cannon, College of Family Living; Dr. Selby G. Clark, chairman of scholarships; Tracy Hall, research department; Dr Edward H. Hart, English department; Professor Don Larsen, Department of Biology; Professor Melvin Mabey, College of Humanities, and Dean Lloyd.

Summer School Applications Due on Friday

Students wishing to attend summer school must make application in room 180 maeser building by 4 p. m. on Tuesday.

Those students applying by Tuesday may pay their fees commencing Friday, according to the head treasurer. Students making application after Tuesday will have to pay fees at the Smith Fieldhouse during registration.

Registration for the first term of summer school will be on June 10 and for the second term on July 15. Dean Howard Reid urges students to register, if possible, for both terms on June 10.

Student swill register in alphabetical order at these times: 8 a m A, B; 8:30 a. m., C, D; 9 a. m., E, F; 9:30 a. m., G, H; 10 a. m., I, J, K; 10:30 a. m , L, M, 11 a m., N, O; 11.30 a. m , P; 1 p. m., Q, R; 1:30 p. m , S, 2 p. m., T, U, V; 2:30 p m , W, 3 p. m., X, Y, Z.

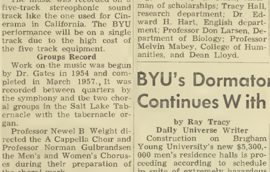
BYU's Dormatory Construction Continues W ith All Time High

by Ray Tracy
Daily Universe Writer

Construction on Brigham Young University's new $5,300,000 men's residence halls is proceeding according to schedule in spite of extremely hazardous working conditions brought about by high rainfall.



GROUND POUNDERS—These men are loading corrugated piling into a 35 ton 60 foot high pile driving machine. The machine which is steam driven was brought to BYU campus from Los Angeles, Calif., to provide a strong foundation for the new men's residence halls. (Photo by Ray Tracy)

Men operating the two giant pile driving machines are completing their driving operations at the site in knee-deep mud and foundations are now being layed.

Completion Scheduled

The project is scheduled to be completed in 500 days during the summer of 1958, as called for in the contract BYU has with Oakland and Mark B. Garff, Ryberg and Garff construction companies, both of Salt Lake City.

The housing project is designed to house 1179 men, and is the largest single building contract in the history of BYU.

According to O. O. Barnes, Wilmington, Calif , construction foreman, the reason that so much pile driving and heavy foundation work is required lies in the fact that the ground below temple hill campus is too soft to support the weight of tall three story buildings.

He said that as soon as the piles were driven deep into the earth and cement footings were laid on top of those pilings construction of the buildings would proceed more rapidly.

Meaning Noted

To 5283 male students attending BYU the project takes on a pleasant meaning, because it is the first construction of residence halls for men here since 1938, when Allen Hall was built Temporary buildings which were obtained as military surplus have housed 329 men since 1947. All other male students have had to rent in the Provo community.

Six BYU Students To Sail For South Pacific Islands

by John Kinnear
Daily Universe Writer

All the adventure and romance of another Kon-Tiki-like expedition lies in wait for six Brigham Young University students who plan to sail, in a 45-foot boat for the islands of Southern Polynesia this summer

"The Spirit of the Y," the name of their boat, will serve as a symbol of the determination, fortitude and loyalty that is representative of the traditions of BYU

According to Tracy Calvert, student from Alhambra, Calif., and skipper of the expedition, the voyage is scheduled to start at the beginning of October, it will probably last a year.

Crew Named

The crew will include Martin Harris, sophomore geology major from California; Mel R. Murray, a graduate in mechanical engineering from Idaho; Lorenzo (Bud) Allen, a junior sociology major from Idaho; Nelson Maycock, a freshman industrial management major from Rome, N. Y., and Clifton Lorah, sophomore industrial management major from Idaho.

The itinerary of the group has been carefully planned to include "Pitcairn Island of Mutiny on the Bounty" fame, Starbuck Island, the Marquesas Islands, the Hawaiian Islands and many other islands of the South Pacific.

To Take Photos

"We are going to do things seldom done, see things seldom seen, and return with motion pictures, tales and experiences that will be unique," said Calvert in an interview recently. The group plan to record and photograph as much of the cultural, historical and archaeological information as time and ability permit.

The financing of the trip will be shared by the six crew members each of whom is contributing $1500 This will include the purchase and outfitting of the boat and supplies for the voyage.

According to Calvert, the expedition has the approval and sanction of a number of prominent men in the country, several avenues of assistance are being provided to the group in the way of references and in the help in attaining their goals in the South Pacific.

All six men, picked from 14 original applicants, appear well qualified for the task that lies ahead of them

Experience Noted

Harris served two years with the U. S. Coast Guard and was stationed in the Pacific area, working for the Atomic Energy Commision. Murray was the captain of his own ship (65 men and 4 officers) in the U. S. Navy; Allen served two years in the Marine Corps and took part in several invasions on islands in the Japanese Sea. Maycock was attached to the Air Search Rescue Group of the U. S. Air Force and has had considerable experience in professional photography. Lorah has, among other things, been the chef in a hotel, park ranger and a lumberjack. Calvert himself, better known to the studentbody as the leader of the Vagabond calypso singing group, has had considerable experience in seamanship, navigation and underwater diving.

Women Can Have Different Watches For Sporting To Formal Occasions

BASLE, Switzerland — (IE — Women now have an entire wardrobe of watches ranging from a "Bikini watch" for swimming to a bejeweled bracelet timepiece for a gala ball.

At the annual watch fair in Basle, Switzerland, some of the latest jeweled-lever time-pieces have been designed as gems of ladies' round-the-clock fashions. There is the water-proof watch built into a miniature life-buoy to be fastened to the shoulderstraps or pantics of your swim suit.

With your sports clothes or even suit the latest is to wear a "belt-watch" or a time-piece on the wrist-band of your belt. Put your car key-chain there is a watch to ring an alarm when your parking time is up.

Elegant women will check the cocktail hour on a watch built into a ring, a jewel-pin or a stylish gold bracelet. When you dress up for the opera or a ball a diamond bracelet complete with a miniature watch will look feminine.

As in clothes, in watches too there is a solution for practical— and budget-minded—ladies. It is the "multi-function watch" shown in Basle in various shapes and with different ornaments.

The medallion watch is a revival of the time-piece great grandma used to wear on a chain around her neck. In 1957 such a watch can again be worn around the neck either on a chain or a string of beads. You can also wind the chain around your belt or wear it fob-chain fashion. The watch, taken off the chain, can be hooked to a lapel-pin or even worn on a bracelet as a "charm."

Brides Will Work After Marriage

Marriage is no way for a woman to avoid working for a living these days.

It is estimated that 1,280,000 of this year's 1,600,000 brides will continue to work after marriage. Reasons are usually either that the groom is still going to school or that money is needed-be-life as housewife and worko pay for such items as furniture and furnishings, car or even the diamond engagement ring.

To help the bride live a double girl, surveys reveal she usually has an electric iron, toaster, waffle iron and deep fat fryer. Other popular items include electric juicers, skillets, roasters and food mixers

VIKING DREAM GIRL — Joyce Austin Bryan was chosen Viking dream girl at their dinner dance. She is married to Lauren Bryan. Novel menus of shortie pajamas with Viking written on them were given to coeds at the dance.

New officers of the Vikings are Gary Jenkins Portland, Ore., president; Carl Bacon, Los Angeles, Calif., vice president; Paul Ashton, Midvale, secretary, and Stan Collins, Provo, treasurer.

NEW ON THE SCENE—Keith and LuAnn Young are the parents of a girl born May 3. She weighed 8 pounds eight ounces.

OVER 25—Kappa Sig XCV is a newly formed club on campus. Despite requirements to join being a bachelor over 25 and unwanted, these celibates make the rounds at all social functions.

WRONG MOVE—We have been wondering if wherever symphony orchestras travel, audiences clap between movements, so it is not an unusual occurrence. As has been stated before though, when in doubt it is better not to applaud for it is very poor form to clap between large movements.

When interviewing two members of the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra, they remarked that most impressive during their stay was the dinner served to them by coeds from Heritage Halls and they thought the living accommodations were unique. Some apartments of femmes have received boxes of candy from the guests they entertained.

MARRIAGE MINDED—Planning an August wedding in the Los Angeles temple are Elaine Law and Phil Salter from Santa Barbara, Calif.

Just become engaged are Lucinda Payne, Yuba City, Calif., and Don Reeves, Provo.

Cougars Grab For Skyline Crown In Aggie Twinbill Crucial Today

With bad weather holding off over the weekend, the Cougar baseball team kept alive their conference hopes by trouncing Montana in both games Friday.

Saturday, the Cats went onto the field again and beat the El Toro Marines by a score of 3-2.

An unfortunate thing happened during the game when Brigend-sacker, Paul Haynie, broke his ankle. He will not be available for Tuesday's doubleheader with Utah State.

According to Coach Jay Van Noy the Brighams will have to take both games of the doubleheader in order to salvage a tie with the league leading Aggies.

The Aggies took the lead on Saturday when they avenged their previous losses against the ham Young University's star s University of Utah. The Far ers thumped the 'Skins' 2-0 a 16-15, with seven runs bei scored by the Loganites in t last two innings of the seco game.

The Utags need only one ga to cinch a championship, wh BYU needs two wins to tie.

Coach VanV Noy will start two star mound-men, Jack C vens and Owen Skousen, a will use Dale Lewis and Br Pratley at catcher.

With Haynie out of the ga Van Noy will have to juggle infield to make up for the lo He will use Tom Steinke or St Jackson at second, with Nor Christiansen at short stop, it felt.

DON THORUP

Saturday's Western Division track meet was considered by many to be the finest ever run in the Intermountain area, with the track being in perfect condition.

Again we want to tip our hats to those who attended and sent up to a tumult of cheers as BYU's cindermen piled up a total of 74 points. The closest contender was Montana with 33 points

The biggest assault of the day was made on the record book as eight new marks were added to the ledger. Six conference marks fell, one was tied, and one Western Division record was chalked up.

Many interesting sidelights occurred during the afternoon, as the sun played peek-a-boo, and the wind came and went at its own leisure

The officials should be given a pat on the back for the fine manner in which the entire meet was run From the opening gun to the end of the record breaking relay, the meet ran smooth and fast

Dave Parker was hit in the toe by a flying javelin while warming up for his record breaking high hurdle race The stick sliced off his shoe and lodged between his toes, doing little damage to the Cougar ace.

Gary Eyre, Utah, has run two exceptionally good races, both in Cougar Stadium, and both times nosing out BYU's ace 880 man, Paul Anderson, at the finish line. Four inches was the margin in Saturday's spikefest, as Eyre notched out a new record of 1 52.6.

Dick Millet, who recorded a new Western Division mark in the low hurdles, ran the 100 yard dash in :09.5, equalling the conference record. The Cougar speedster pushed Ken Christensen, Utah, to a time of :09.3, but a record wasn't allowed due to a tail wind.

Finishing strong behind Arlyn Finlinson as he tied the conference mark in the 440 was Jim Crittenden of BYU who finished third. Crittenden ran the fastest race of his life while trailing the great Finlinson.

BYU's crack mile relay team, consisting of Wayne Chamberlain, Oscar Anderson, Crittenden, and Finlinson "flew" to a new conference mark of 3:15.3 to wind up the meet. A strong Montana team pushed the Cats around the oval, but BYU's man reached his destination first each time

Fine Prep Coaching Record Possessed By Tally Stevens

by Carolyn Harrison
Sports Feature Writer

One of the first assistants acquired by Coach Kopp was Tally Stevens, one of the finest prep coaches in Utah history

He has filled the position of end coach on the football staff Coach Stevens, a tall personable 1949 graduate of University of Utah knows the taste of coaching success well.

Tally Stevens

His last four seasons as head coach at East High School in Salt Lake City netted him a 33 win, 3 loss, 1 tie record and three Class "A" state championships. His overall prep record is 49-11-3.

Stevens, a native of Evanston, Wyo , was one of those exceptional athletes. He graduated from Evanston High School, leaving behind a very impressive record.

Coach Stevens chose Utah as his institution of higher learning. There he lettered in football, basketball and track He played football for the Fourth Air Force, along with some of the finest players in the nation, during World War II.

Returning to the Ute campus following the war, he became one of the finest ends ever developed under Ike Armstrong. He also played basketball at the hilltop school and was considered one of Utah's finest athletes.

His first coaching assignment following greduation in 1949 was at Morgan High School and a year later he accepted the coaching post at East High.

The coach and his wife, Phyllis, have two doughters and one son.

IMPORTANT

All football players are asked to attend a special meeting in room 134 of the Smith Fieldhouse, Tuesday at 3:30 p. m., announced Tally Stevens.

The coach said it is very important that all football players be there.
